BACKGROUND

The skill Eco-system in India is diversifying with fast economic development and to scale-up skilling among masses Govt. of India has launched Skill India programme. In order to fulfill the main objective of skilling, DGT has developed successful model under various schemes viz., Craftsmen Training Scheme (CTS), Apprenticeship Training Scheme (ATS) and Crafts Instructor Training Scheme (CITS) which is time tested and proven.

The economic prosperity of any nation depends upon the development of human resources of that nation. The significant fact in the development of manpower resource refers to the level of competencies. For this purpose we need highly competent trainers to develop these competencies. It is essential that trainers developing these competencies should have the capability to perform their task effectively and efficiently. For this, they need to acquire requisite competencies through capacity building.

The skill training is dynamic in nature especially in the present context of technological changes. This demands a proper understanding of the original ideas, theories and systems that are fundamental base of a good instructor. As an instructor /trainer it is of utmost importance that the various nuances of good training practices are understood and followed in true spirit. To develop this, the training is imperative for instructors to ensure quality training. In view of this CITS courses of 01 year duration were designed mainly for popular trades.

However there are large numbers of instructors in the training system who are working for long time, who could not undergo CITS training which can be attributed to various factors. As the instructors are imparting training since many years, it is apparent that they might have acquired some level of instructor competencies.

Hence to bring competencies of this pool of instructors at par with the defined competencies under CITS, it is proposed to introduce Special course of 01 month on Principle of Teaching along with 02 months trade related training. This will facilitate them to appear CITS exam without undergoing 01 yr. conventional CITS training, recognizing their prior learning. After the course the participants will be equipped with adequate instructional skills, information, enhanced capacity, more adaptable to changing environment thus strengthening skill ecosystem as a whole.
